(SEPARATE SHEET)

International application No.

PCT/IB2005/050799

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1 Reference is made to the following documents:

D1 : EP 1 093 885 A (BOTECH AG) 25 April 2001 (2001-04-25)

D2 : US 5 752 876 A (HETTES FRANK J) 19 May 1998 (1998-05-19)

2 INDEPENDENT CLAIM 1

2.1 The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject matter of claim 1 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

2.2 Document D1, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art to the subject matter of claim 1, discloses (the references in parentheses applying to this document):

a sanding element (1) with a succession of overlapping lamellas (2) coated with sanding grains, where these lamellas are alternatively formed of sanding lamellas (2), flexible lamellas (5) and compressible (druckelastischen) lamellas (6) whereby each sanding lamella (2) rests and is supported on a set of flexible and compressible lamellas (5,6) (see paragraph 17 and claim 1).

3 DEPENDENT CLAIM 2

3.1 The subject-matter of dependent claim 2 differs from the disclosure of D1 in that the overlapping lamellas (2) do not contain abrasive grains but are coated with.

3.2 The problem to be solved by the present invention may therefore be regarded as to obtain a better abrasive effect by distribution of the abrasive grains throughout the lamellas.

3.3 In view of D2 the solution proposed in claim 2 of the present application cannot be considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) since this feature is already disclosed in a similar flap disc abrasive tool, see especially column 7, lines 8 to 17.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY REPORT ON PATENTABILITY
(SEPARATE SHEET)

3.4 Therefore the features disclosed in D1 and D2 would be combined by the skilled person, without exercise of any inventive skills in order to solve the problem posed. The proposed solution in independent claim 1 thus cannot be considered inventive (Article 33(3) PCT).

4 DEPENDENT CLAIM 3

4.1 The subject-matter of dependent claim 3 differs from the disclosure of D1 in that each sanding lamella rest with its operational part on a corresponding compressible lamella. The subject-matter of claim 3 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).

4.2 The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as to exert a constant pressure between the workpiece and the sanding element.

4.3 The solution to this problem proposed in claim 3 of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step because the abrasive lamella makes an even contact with the surface of the workpiece with an almost uniform pressure, thanks to the compressibility of the the underlying lamella. Since this solution is neither disclosed nor suggested by any prior art document, the present application meet the requirements of Article 33(3) PCT.

5 DEPENDENT CLAIMS 4 to 13

Claims 4 to 13 are dependent on claim 3 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
